Public Policies

Non-Commercial

The Pulitzer Arts Foundation welcomes visitors to take photographs of its museum and outdoor campus for personal use. Inside the museum, no flash, additional equipment, or commercial photography is permitted. Photography and video recording may be restricted near works of art or during some events. The Pulitzer does not permit photography or videography that may be disruptive to other visitors. Drones are not permitted. The Pulitzer assumes no responsibility for any royalties or fees claimed against the applicant or the Pulitzer by third parties.

Commercial

Commercial photography and videography is prohibited without the permission of the Pulitzer. This includes recordings intended to promote a product, service, company, or cause. Requests may be permitted in outdoor spaces—Park-Like, the Spring Church, and other areas—with prior approval. All photography or filming of a non-personal nature (i.e. editorial, commercial, advertisement) must be approved by the Pulitzer one week (seven days) prior to shooting. The Pulitzer reserves the right to deny photography or videography. The Pulitzer reserves the right to approve final content for any publication in any form in which images of the Pulitzer Arts Foundation will appear. Photographers and videographers are responsible for determining and obtaining any rights you may need related to your commercial use directly from the copyright owner. The Pulitzer does not permit photography or videography that may be disruptive to other visitors. Drones are not permitted. The Pulitzer assumes no responsibility for any royalties or fees claimed against the applicant or the Pulitzer by third parties.
